Hello....

My name is Garth and welcome to my set of oil painting classes. I'm an artist that works across a range of interests and over the course of the ten weeks, my aim is to make the classes fun and introduce you to the medium of oil painting. For me, the most important part of being an artist is exploring and finding what is unique to you. It's not about having the most expensive equipment but having a passion.

To give everyone a little more context, I have put together a brief overview outlining the themes I will work through with you alongside a few pictures of the sort of stuff you might work towards.

Week One

Still life

We will work from objects in place

Week Two

Landscape and rural (trees and colour) Bring a photo reference

Week Three

Skies

Bring a photo reference

Week Four

Buildings

We will be looking at perspective.

Week Five

Flowers

Working from a live flower selection but you are welcome to bring your own reference.

I'm an Iris fan but we will use what's in season and hopefully some daffs will be available

Week Six

Movement

Bring a ref pic of action, cycling football or dance... the world is your oyster

Week Seven

Animals

We will look at painting animals with limited strokes. Pet or wildlife ref pic

Week Eight

Figures

Think of contrast and shadow in your reference picture

Week Nine

Portraits/ faces

Bring a photo or challenge yourself with a mirror

Week Ten

Bring along any work you have been working on and need help with or revisit any of the other classes

Things to bring

In the following pages you will find a basic list of everything you will need to bring. The links and approximate costings are there only to be used as a guide. You might find them to be cheaper or more expensive when you have a look for yourself.

Please don't feel compelled to buy from the links provided and feel free to do some shopping around when sourcing your materials. YCL does offer some starter packs but you are under no pressure to purchase these packs – they are simply there because attendees of past classes have asked for starter packs to be offered.

Oil Paints, Primary Colors with Black & White (approx. £8 - £20)

You can buy a variety of oil paints to fit a range of budgets. At the high end, you tend to have Windsor & Newton, mid range are brands like Daler Rowney and towards the lower range, you can buy paints from Hobby Craft who offer their own range. The key difference between the higher and lower quality is the concentration of pigment. Towards the lower end, the paint can be a little more difficult to work with and contains a greater volume of oil.

Upcoming Painting Workshops

When you attend a YCL workshop, we always provide
EVERYTHING

MATISSE MASTERCLASS & AFTERNOON TEA - 4TH MARCH, 2023, £40

Join us at Potto Village Hall on the 4th March where, under the tutelage of professional artist Garth Bayley, you will produce an oil painting as well as producing collage pieces to replicate the modern master of colour, Henri Matisse.

When you have finished working on your painting and collage, you will indulge in a delightful afternoon tea courtesy of our partners at Buttercream Beauties.

ROSEBERRY TOPPING PAINT ALONG & CAKE WORKSHOP - 11TH MARCH, 2023, £25

Join us at Hutton Rudby Village Hall on March 11th for our very first workshop with renowned local artist, James McGairy. In this workshop, you will be provided with all of the materials necessary (for this event, you will be working in acrylic paint) to replicate this beautiful harvest themed image of Roseberry Topping.

Once you have finished your masterpiece, you will tuck into a delightful Victoria Sponge cupcake and Raspberry Brownie slab thanks to our partners over at Buttercream Beauties.
